

GARDEN COURT ANTIQUES

San Francisco, California
415 355-1690

Pair Of Amber Color Peking Glass Vases, Chinese Circa 1890.

List: $1,550

Pair of Amber color Peking glass vases. Chinese circa 1890 height: 10 in. 24.5 cm., diameter: 5 in. 13 cm.

Peking glass is a form of Chinese glassware that originated in Peking, China in the 18th century. It is made by dipping blown glass into many different layers of contrasting glass before carving away layers to reveal the colors and textures underneath.

The form of these deep orangish-brown bottles/vases were a frequently encountered Peking glass form popular with Western collectors in the nineteenth century. Similar examples, varying in color and size, can be found in many collections. [1. Warren, Phelps. "LATER CHINESE GLASS 1650-1900." Journal of Glass Studies 19 (1977): 84-126. <http://www.jstor.org/stable/24190603>.]

- Item Number: JG-384
- Country: China
- Period: Late 19th Century
- Creation Date: Circa 1890
- Materials: Glass, Peking Glass
- Height: 10 in., 24.5 cm.
- Diameter: 13 cm., 5 in.
- Condition: Very good